WHITE CLOUD, KANSAS: Thursday, 1 : : January 16, 1868.

The Democratic Organization. We went to Troy, a few days ago. and while there, vainly endeavore! to find out something about the Democratic pow wow. None of the citizens could give us any information-in fact, they said they were glad we had come, for they expected us to give them some information on the subject. We met Col. Johnston, but he didn't seem to know anything about it, and would talk nothing but religion. We afterwards heard that Johnston had been Chairman of the meeting. Finally we picked up, here and there, a few rague items. The meeting was ordinarily attended, the various parts of the County being poorly represented Glick, of Atchison, made a speech, in which be advocated repudiation of the honest debts of the United States, contracted to crush the rebellion, and exhortod those who had been rebels during the war, to come out from their biding places, and they should be protected. Glick got a resolution passed, endorsing himself as a candidate for Congress. Glick is actirely engaged in organizing the Democracy, that he may have a chance to be slaughtered, next Fall. Then Col. Ege blew. To those who have ever heard him, no other description is necessary. We learn that in the proceedings sent to the Atchison Patriot for publication, are to be found a formidable array of names of persons who were not there. One prominent man figures as an officer of the meeting, who was not within twelve miles of Troy, on that day; and snother person informed us that his name was attached to the minutes, as Assitant Secretary, but that he was not there, had never been a Democrat, and never expected to be This was the way the Democratic party of Doniphan County was organized!

HISTORY OF DONIPHAN COUNTY .- We last week spoke of this important contemplated work. It will be a book of from 300 to 400 pages, containing a history of the County, from its earliest settlement to the present time, and a complete Directory of the County; a short history of the State, its organization, settlament, soil, climate, agricultural and mineral resources, advantages, &c.; the Constitution of the State: a variety of legal forms; valuable tables for computing interest, measuring grain in the bin, computing wages, etc.; the name, residence and occupation of every man in the County; list of Post Offices in the State; erything that will tend to make the book one of general interest, and make it a book for the parlor or counting room. 21 points about. According to agree Advertisements of professional and business men in the County will be inserted and game supper and ball at the City at a very reasonable rate. They will Hotel, on Wednesday evening. The find it a valuable advertising medium, as the book will reach almost every family joyed by a large number of personsid the County, and very many persons many persons partaking besides the huntout of the County. The price of the ers. book will be $2 50 per copy; advertisers advertise in its pages, and that the people of the County will all subscribethose who are able, send copies abroad. as an advertisement of the County. It will probably be ready sometime in April, and subscribers and advertisers will not be required to pay anything until the work is delivered. Messrs. General Blunt and Captain Moorehouse, of Atchison, were elected delegates to the Philadelphia for that purpose. .

We learn that some of the parties concerned, are not pleased with the account we gave, last week, of putting a of Connecticut, in session in this city, to day girl across the river. We think that we General Grant for the Presidency, and pledggave if in as favorable a light as we could ling him the support of the soldiers of Co for the men engaged in it. Our impresaion was, that they had gone into the and delegates appointed to the National Convention in Philadelphia on the 15th inst. matter beadlong, without considering what would be the consequences, and probably laboring under excitement, or acting under the advice of others, who did not wish to be caught in such business; therefore we touched them as lightly in the facts would permit. If we should alter our statement, we could only make it more unfavorable to them. It was not our fault that they went into the business. and we did not make the law under which such acts are punishable.

Correspondence.

(For the Chief.)

Letter from Washington WASHINGTON CITY, January 8, 1868. FRIEND CHIEF:-- My last was devoted main y to discussing Grant and the Presidency. Before proceeding farther in this letter, I may as well relate a little anecdote of the General, sent at the time.

A number of distinguished men called upon the General, and in the course of the interview, one of them broached a subject which is very distasteful to Mm, as a topic of converse. tion-his military achievements. "General,"

"Well," replied the General, assuming a any power he should use it to protect the confidential air, "that is a matter that I have weak, and he would do his best to have made it a point to keep secret; but as the gen the suggestions made carried out. He tlemen present are all my personal friends, said that it would probably be a few days and will doubtless permit it to go no further, I before matters would commence to run will tell you. It all comes of having lived so

The opinion is now quite prevalent here and in New York, that when the Caicago Convention meets, it will let out the Presidency to contract. The plan is this: to let the contract to some individitat or company who will bind themselves to earry the election-they to give ronage for four years, which bond will be forfeited if they fail of success, or if the man whom they elect "goes back" on the party during his term of office. If they succeed they are to be well paid, in the way of patronage, fat contracts, and heavy chaims. It is thought that Democratic capitalists will put in roposals, and perhaps the candidate will be taken from that party. But this will make no difference, as the Government patronage or its equivalent will be guaranteed to the wire pullers of the Republican party; and as long as they control that, it fatters but little what the President's politics may be. A man becomes a traitor, as soon as he begins to give the offi ces to another party. Let me tell you, by the way, that President Johnson is a shrewder man than he generally has credit for. He had the ment, by liberally remembering the families of numerous Republican Congressmen, in the distribution of fat offices!

The case of the removal of Stanton is occupying considerable attention here. The counas obtained a wrong impre cause of his removal. I have the true version from Mr. Binck'ey, of the Attorney General's office. It is customary, in Cabinet meetings, for the President to furnish the liquor. Every member except Stanton chose the President's favorite beverage, whiskey straight, but he persistently clung to the higher priced brandies and wines. The expense was a little too heavy for the President; he dared not make an open rupture in Cabinet session, but ended the matter by quietly removing Stanton. Secretary Welles remarked, upon hearing of it, that Stanton was a fool. As for himself, whiskey or wine was all the same to him-in fact, his experience was, that when a man was asleen, his sense of taste was dormant!

After Sheridan's removal from New Orleans you will recollect, he went the rounds of the North , having enthusiastic receptions. Ap ardent Conservative went to the Presider t, advising him, as Sheridan't superior, to order Sewell, Publisher, Chicago, Ill. Great him off to duty at once, or he might become a inducements are offered to those who wish formidable rival for the Presidency. "Quiet duct suits me, exactly. He is taking the right course to lay himself out as flat as a lap-board. I know that, from experience!"

Horace Greeley's nomination as Minister ! Austria, has been the occasion of much annoyance to him; and his refusal to accept, is said to be on account of his having been so tormented before his nomination was confirmed, that bought over 40 000 bushels; the same he declined out of spite. Since his nomination, last Summer, more than half the letters he has received have been addressed to "Rev." Horace Greeley. One pious inquirer wished to know whether he was going to make the Tribune a religious paper, now that he had become a Minister; another solicitous friend advised him that he could do much more good Judicial District of the State of Kansas, with as ecitor of the Tribane, than by going as a in and for the County of Doniphan, agains missionary to Australia; and the trustees of a the said William B. Victor, defendant church in the West gave him a formal invitation to take charge of the congregation, as its paster, at a salary of $250 a year, with houserent and fire-wood free. He was one day called upon by a ragged negro couple, who desired him to marry them; saying that they had heard he was the friend of negroes, and they suppos-ed he would charge them nothing! It was enough to aggravate a meeker personage than Horace.

The speech of Judge Woodward, the new Democratic Congressman from Pennsylvania, in favor of the right to impeach the President, fustian, and has made many weak-backed Rebring up somewhere about Newsrk and said one excited member in my hearing; "f Mansfield, Ohio, and pass themselves off we had only known this in time, we would all will make capital against us in our own par-ty!" Just so. A majority of the members vo-ted, not upon the merits of the question, but to be upon what they regarded as the strong side—not to satisfy their constituents, but to mollify their Copperhead opponents. It would seem as if this succession of triumphs should be sufficient to convince every unprejudiced person of the great superiority of the FLORENCE over all others as a Family Sewing Machine. If anything more is needed to confirm the above, we might add that, in 1861, the Company only sold fifty Machines, whilst now there are over forty thousand in use,
thus establishing the success of the FLORENCE beyond all question.
